

Lighting The Way To Success Mary Harcourt

Mary Harcourt will share her story on how she turned a simple napkin sketch idea into a globally recognized brand in the beauty industry. What began as a personal solution to a frustrating shadow lighting problem in her eyelash extension spa evolved into CosmoGlo, albeit through many trials and setbacks. CosmoGlo has become the gold standard of professional lighting, trusted by thousands of beauty professionals across the globe.

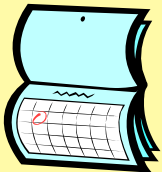

Mary will explain the details of her lucrative concept to market journey and how her success is a powerful reminder that you don't need a perfect plan to begin. She emphasizes starting with what you have and the determination to succeed is often the only difference between building something remarkable or watching someone else do it first. Mary's inspiring story should encourage fellow inventors to lean into the unknown and bring their visions to life!

Today, her invention holds patents around the world and is proudly manufactured in the USA.
